NILOAK & BEYOND
20TH-CENTURY AMERICAN
SWIRL ART POTTERY

MAY 7TH - JULY 8TH, 2023

Be a part of an exhibit of rare and stunning examples of Niloak's iconic Swirled Missionware art pottery presented alongside examples of creations by potteries around the country inspired by the innovative Niloak swirl design.

The exhibition will be launched in conjunction with the Second Annual Arkansas Pottery festival, May 5th - 7th, sponsored by the Community Creative Center in Fayetteville, Arkansas.

Your sponsorship will support additional research, exhibition materials and production, exhibition opening, and programming around Niloak & Beyond.

The exhibition is being developed in collaboration with the Community Creative Center, the Historic Arkansas Museum, the University of Arkansas Museum, the Shiloh Museum of Ozark History, and numerous private collectors. David Edwin Gifford, historian, noted Niloak scholar, and author of The Collector's Encyclopedia of Niloak, will serve as the co-curator for the exhibition.

The exhibition features swirl pottery by Evans, Ozark, Skag, Denver's White, Dikota's Badlands, Charlie Stehm's Ozark Pottery, Houghton & Dalton, Spruce Pine's Muscle Shoals and Marie, Silver Springs, and others, along with historic photographs and memorabilia.

ABOUT HISTORIC CANE HILL

Historic Cane Hill, Inc. is a 501 (c)3 non-profit organization. Historic Cane Hill is a place for people of all ages to connect with history, arts, Ozarks culture, and the natural world through tours, public programs, and museum and gallery exhibitions. Since 2013, Historic Cane Hill has preserved some of the region's most important character-defining landmarks, including the 1886 Cane Hill College building and the 1891 Cane Hill Presbyterian Church. Cane Hill is home to trails, natural features, orchards, and 18 historic buildings and sites listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Cane Hill is where momentous historic events, arts, education, agriculture, and the natural environment intersect. Nestled in the Ozark Mountains, it is the site of the oldest permanent settlement in Washington County (1827), one of Arkansas's first institutions of higher learning (1850), and the first co-ed college in the state.
